"Moral injury is characterized as the lasting psychological, spiritual, behavioural, and social distress that arises when an individual participates in, fails to prevent, or witnesses actions that conflict with their deeply held moral beliefs and ethical standards. There is growing recognition of its prevalence among healthcare professionals, who face unique ethical challenges in their daily practice.

This workshop will delve into the presentation of moral injury within healthcare environments, methods for mitigating its risk, and principles for recovery from a Christian perspective.

Please join us on Zoom for this timely seminar on May 12 (part i) and May 13 (part ii) from 7 pm to 9 pm ET by registering with Fronica by email: ncfcares@gmail.com
